SUBJECT: Formation of Office of Information Technology

Effective 17 February 1985:

1. The Office of Data Processing (ODP) is abolished.
2. The activities, personnel and positions formerly comprising the Office of Data Processing, OC/Domestic Networks Division (OC/DND) and OS/Information Systems Security Group (OS/ISSG) become part of a new organization which is to be called Office of Information Technology (OIT).
3. OC/Domestic Networks Division is redesignated OIT/Domestic Networks Group.
4. The employees currently occupying positions affected by this reorganization retain their present career service designations pending the establishment of the structure and staffing pattern for OIT.
5. Two OC positions, in addition to those already identified, are transferred to OIT to provide additional personnel support.
6. OIT becomes a prime customer of OC/Engineering Division. A senior OIT officer will be assigned on a rotational basis to OC/Engineering Division. A senior OC officer will, likewise, be rotated to OIT.
